The summer stipend covers transportation and living costs for Summer Immersion Program students who qualify.

Who is eligible to attend the Summer Immersion Program?

The Summer Immersion Program is an introductory program for girls who are new to computer science. To apply, you must be a current sophomore or junior in high school and be able to spend all 7 weeks with us. The program is 100% FREE and we also provide need-based summer stipends to cover transportation and living costs. Girls Who Code serves all girls, especially those who:

- Are current high school sophomores and juniors
- Are underrepresented in computer science and technology fields in terms of race, creed or background
- Have little to no access or exposure to computer science education in school
- Are Free and Reduced Lunch eligible Identify as female regardless of gender assignment at birth or legal recognition

What does the Summer Immersion Program application process look like?

All eligible 10th and 11th grade students can apply to the Summer Immersion Program online. The application consists of one short answer question. Girls Who Code does not ask for GPA, transcript, or any recommendations.

When are students notified of their acceptance to the Summer Immersion Program?

All students will be notified of their acceptance by April 7 via email.

Will Girls Who Code provide housing for the Summer Immersion Program?

No, we don't provide housing. The Summer Immersion Program is a day program and the vast majority of students apply to a location close to where they live.

I am going to be out of town during the program. Should I still apply?

All program participants must be able to commit to attending the entire seven-week program. We hope you will choose to spend your summer with us. It's worth it!

What will girls learn in the Summer Immersion Program?

Each week of the program covers projects related to computer science, such as art, storytelling, robotics, video games, and websites. Through those projects, students learn programming languages including Scratch, Python, C++, HTML, CSS and Javascript. Students also learn about tech careers from guest speakers, participating in workshops, connecting with female engineers and entrepreneurs, and going on field trips. The program culminates in a final project where students work in teams to build a product based on their interests.

Are boys eligible to apply for the Girls Who Code Summer Immersion Program?

Our programs are intended for students who identify as female regardless of gender assignment at birth or legal recognition.

I don't have any coding experience. Should I still apply?

Yes, our program is designed for beginners! All you need is a readiness to learn.

I am not eligible for SIP. How else can I get involved?

You can join a Club in your area! Clubs are FREE after-school programs for 6-12th grade girls to use computer science to impact their community and join our sisterhood of supportive peers and role models. Learn more and find a Club near you at girlswhocode.com/Clubs.
